TEXT

According to the May 30, 1911 of the Silverbelt Newspaper a native stone column was erected in the memory of veterans of two wars from private subscription. And that a dedication would soon follow in the near future. Also per talking to a previous ADOT worker he stated that the stone used for this monument seems to be a stone that was leftover from the making of the Roosevelt Dam. Natural limestone was used to build the damn and was cut, when it was built there were some leftovers and thus this monument seem to be one of those rocks.
