32-pounder Bureau of Ordnance Gun of 4,500 pounds, Preponderance, 350 pounds; weight ratio, 141 with round shot; bore length 14.4 calibers. The hatched area designates the specified rough casting. SOURCES: RG74 E202, red series drawings 972 & 1034; black series drawing 3171.

32-pounder BUREAU of ORDNANCE GUNS of 4,500 pounds

All 90 surviving 32-pounder guns weighing 4,500 pounds with 350 pound preponderance conform with the 21 April 1864 Bureau of Ordnance design. Longer and heavier than Dahlgren's pre-War originals, they have no provision for an elevating screw. They were to be elevated by quoin, occasionally still found with survivors. The nominal length of the gun is the same as its bore length of 92 inches including a 9.5-inch round bottom Gomer chamber. More than 15 inches of added length accounts for 1,200 pounds added weight.

A drawing, presumed to be a marked copy of the earliest, shows 6.4 inch diameter trunnions 3.5 inches long. An added line at 3-inch length has the note, "The blue line denotes length of trunnions for Guns to be mounted on metallic carriages."<sup>13</sup>

(MODEL 1864 DAHLGREN SMOOTHBORE) 32 POUNDER U.S. NAVAL CANNON
erroneous Description

Correct
Description

Manufactured by the ARCHITECTURAL IRON WORKS of New York in 1865 this Gun, No. 333 of 383 made, using a 17 man gun crew, fired a solid shot of 6 3/8" dia. weighing 32 pounds designed to smash through the side of a wooden ship. The Gun was installed aboard a U.S. Naval Warship at the Washington Navy Yard in 1868 where it served until wooden ships became obsolete. The Gun later became surplus and in early 1892 Sen. George C. Perkins, former Gov. of Calif, arranged for the United States Navy to donate it to the FRED STEELE POST No. 70, GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC in San Luis Obispo where it was to be kept as a monument to the Civil War veterans of our community.

The Gun served as a focal point at all the Memorial Day celebrations in San Luis Obispo from 1892 until 1927 when the Ceremony was moved to the larger Lawn Cemetery. With the passing of these last Civil War veterans the Cannon became neglected, moved from the G.A.R. Plot in the I.O.O.F. Cemetery, and eventually lost and forgotten for over ten years when, with the interest and determination of Edson T. Strobridge, it was located and returned to San Luis Obispo. Fred Lange of R. Burke Corp. restored the Gun to its original condition and with the generous support of Michael Lady reinstalled to the location it had been originally placed over 102 years ago.

This 1864 Naval Cannon commemorates the patriotism and honor of over 128 of these "Old Soldiers", both Union and Confederate who are buried in the three cemeteries in the City of San Luis Obispo, over 107 of them here in the old I.O.O.F. Cemetery.
