GENERAL JAMES SHIELDS

The Brigadier General James Shields Monument is located on the East side of the Court House on the Carrollton square. The statue is 14 feet high, cost $10,000, and was unveiled November 1914.

General Shields is known for being the only Union General to have defeated Stonewall Jackson during battle, for serving as U.S. Senator from three separate states (Missouri, Minnesota, and Illinois), and for dueling with Abraham Lincoln over a squabble which arose while they, as well as Stephen Douglas, were courting Mary Todd in Springfield, Illinois.

Union General James Shields made his home in Carrollton during his later years. He is buried in St. Mary's Catholic Cemetery just north of Carrollton on Highway 65. The monument is the only one erected by the federal government in a private cemetery. It was unveiled in November 1910.

The Courthouse still serves as the center of activity in Carroll County and is a source of pride to the local citizenry. After the Civil War General Shields bought a farm in Carroll County near Carrollton where he and his family resided. After his death Mrs. Shields and family (three children) moved from rural Carrollton to town living at 507 North Main. Today the house is a private residence.
